SYDNEY MAGERS WINS LIFESPAN'S SECOND ANNUAL VOICE AND VINO AT THE CASINO IN A RECORD NIGHT!

Just like last year, the winner of LifeSpan's 2019 Voice and Vino came down to the wire last night as eight local performers took to the Horseshoe stage to raise money and awareness of LifeSpan Resources. While the final total raised was not available at this time, it was known to be a record according to Lora Clark, CEO of LifeSpan.

"It was such a wonderful evening," said Clark. "It was exciting to see so many people come out and support LifeSpan Resources and our services and the performers we had this year; I just can't say enough." continued Clark.

Voice and Vino features eight local performers and four "somewhat" famous judges and is meant to provide a fun and entertaining evening that also raises funds for the services LifeSpan Resources provides the local community. This year's focus was on transportation services and raising funds for new vans to help those in need get to their doctor's appointments, the pharmacy, etc. something that is estimated to cost $ 25.00 per trip.

The judges this year were Jerry Finn, Angie Fenton, Mark Maxwell and Leslie Lewis-Sheets. The performers this year included Kimberly Glyn, Kimberly Roby, April Ramoni, Dayna Ashley, Doug Helm, Wayne Fulton, Dr. Mike Bittenbender and Sydney Magers who pulled out the victory with some hard fought fund raising efforts in the later minutes of the evening.

LifeSpan Resources is the designated area agency on aging for the Indiana counties of Clark, Floyd, Harrison and Scott Counties whose mission is "Promoting Independent Living for People of all Ages."
